Wall-Paper! Entirely New Stock. CABLER & CO. and an old, shall-over speak. Prices lower than elsewhere.

Graves Robbery. Friends of the late Mrs. Frank Ferguson were at the cemetery yesterday, and noticed that the grave had been tampered with.

They dug down and found that the grave had been opened, the corpse drawn out of the casket, a breast-pin and finger-ring removed, the corpse placed upon the top of the box, and dirt thrown over it.

There is no clue to the miscreant. Such vile ghoulisms would not even be thought of by the ordinary human being who has gone wrong, and it is a species of crime that should be punished with all due severity.

Dwarf French Cannas. Tubers of Madame Crozy and Florence Vaughan grown in my yard last season. 3 for 25 cts. CLYDE C. GRAY.

Chicago Inter Ocean and Columbus Journal, one year, in advance $1.75. If -Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paschal have the sympathy of all their friends in the death of their youngest child, Alice, of membranous croup. She was attacked Saturday and died Tuesday night. Her age was nearly four years.

-T. H. Waksy, a former Columbus boy, has been nominated by the Republicans for city clerk of Seward. If Tom proves as popular with the citizens of that city as his father did while running for office here, a galling gun will not prevent his election.

-John Bohrene brought in 150 head of cattle from the west Sunday, to be fed here and to be shipped later to South Omaha. The cattle were bought north-east of Cheyenne about fifty miles and loaded at Pine Bluffs and are a fair lot of steers.

-W. H. Manger, having been appointed U. S. judge, the partnership heretofore existing between himself and W. J. Courtright has been dissolved, and the business will be continued by the latter alone, who has been with Mr. Manger the past six years.

-The Misses Murphy have brought from Chicago a very fine stock of Millinery, and owing to the large stock they purchased, will be able to sell very reasonable, and would like to have the ladies call. Second door south of Friedhof's. First class trimmer.

-The Fremont Tribune poses fun at Robert Kittle by saying that "if the democracy carry the city it is understood we are to have a mint built here for the free and unlimited coinage of silver by this city alone, without waiting for the aid of Nickerson, North Bend or Sandberg."

Personal Section. H. W. Abbe was in Norfolk last week. E. W. North was up from Omaha over Sunday. Frank Golembitz of Albion was in town Thursday. Miss Doris of Dixon, Illinois, is visiting with John Curry's family.

Mrs. Ellis G. Brown and her two boys went Saturday to Cedar Rapids on a visit to friends. Miss Madge Morrow leaves this Tuesday for Illinois, where she expects to make her home.

Mrs. George Spear came down from Norfolk Friday for a month's visit with Miss George Lehman. Mrs. L. Bristol and two daughters went up to North Platte Thursday to visit several days with friends.

Miss J. H. Hale, who has been visiting friends, returned yesterday to her home in Sioux City. She was accompanied by Dan Condon, Jr., who expects to remain there.

DIED. Hurm—March 22, at 9:30 p. m., Mrs. John Huber, in the 68th year of her age. Miss Nancy Bennett was born at Lake Pleasant, New York. She was married to John Huber at Syracuse, New York. Came to Nebraska in 1871, since which time she has lived in this city.

What new developments there may be Saturday next cannot, of course, be foreseen. The case has aroused considerable feeling, but those who talk about it would do well to adhere strictly to what they know are the facts in the case, and put themselves, in thought, in the situation of each actor before passing judgment.

Republicans Conventions. The Republicans of the several wards met Friday evening in caucus, selecting delegates as follows: First ward, Mason Beall, T. F. Wilson, J. A. Ernst, R. G. Cross, M. K. Turner, H. P. Coolidge, C. E. Early, Ed. Hochberger, J. H. Galley, John Wiggins, C. A. Wootley and O. S. Shannon, and naming J. A. Ernst as their nominee for councilman. W. M. Cornelius was selected as central committee for the ensuing year.

Second ward, J. A. Turner, Hugh Hughes, Dan Zeigler, J. G. Pollock, J. E. Hoffman, I. Gluck, J. N. Kilian, E. H. Jenkins, John Brock. John Hoffman was selected as nominee for councilman. Third ward, M. Whitmoyer, S. C. Gray, Carl Kramer, A. Hammad, Frank Mills, C. J. Garlow, J. B. Henson, A. L. Coon, George Scott, Geo. G. Becker, H. W. Winslow, Clarence Sheldon and W. A. McAllister. Clinton C. Gray was named as councilman.

The delegates above-named met at the Firemen's hall Saturday evening, and were called to order by J. E. Hoffman of the central committee. C. J. Garlow was selected as temporary chairman, and C. E. Early as temporary secretary, the temporary organization being afterwards made permanent. The rules were suspended and James H. Galley nominated by acclamation for mayor; Frank Wurdeman for treasurer; H. P. Coolidge for clerk.

When it came to the nomination of city engineer, Gus Becker moved that Fred Gottschalk be nominated, but there was no second. J. G. Pollock remarked that he did not favor the nomination of any man not of the party, and moved that the position be left for the central committee to fill. The motion was seconded and carried.

For members of school board there were three names placed in nomination, all from the Third ward, which now has none of its residents as a member of the board, viz: J. G. Reeder, Geo. A. Scott and C. J. Garlow. Mr. Garlow remarked that this office was non-partisan, and that it was his understanding that the opposition would place but one candidate on their ticket. A motion was then made that the nomination proceed by ballot, that the one receiving the highest vote be declared the nominee, and that the central committee be empowered to name a second, if the opposition placed two candidates for school board on their ticket. The motion was carried.

The Mayor's Case. Last Wednesday was the day set by Judge Sullivan for the hearing of the case of Frederick Hodge, the father of Miss Louisa Hodge of Nance county, who had, by proceedings for a writ of habeas corpus, secured an order of the court directing one Frank Hodges to produce the young lady in court on that day.

On the arrival of the train at the U. P. depot in this city Wednesday noon, Mr. Hodges stated in an affidavit that himself, his wife and said minor child Louisa Hodge "were assaulted, beaten, struck, wounded and bruised by one Frederick Hodge, or Frederick Hodge, Jr., Mrs. Frederick Hodge, or J. N. Kilian and divers and sundry other persons whose names are to different unknown, and the said minor child was forcibly and against her will removed to some place unknown, etc."

There is no doubt but that the girl against her will, was placed in a buggy and taken away with her brother as driver and her mother holding her; there is no doubt that Hodges was struck, bruised, etc., but who did the striking and how much knowledge they had of their legal liability in the case, are questions yet to be decided, it seems. The girl was produced in court Saturday morning, and after questions by Judge Sullivan, he ordered her under the protection of Officers Gentlemen and Roberts with full liberty until Saturday next.

We understand that, among many other things pertinent to the situation, Judge Sullivan remarked that he had known Mr. and Mrs. Hodge when they lived here and he did not believe that forcible interference with the order of the court had originated with them, and so he ordered that they only pay the costs. Judge Kilian disclaimed any wrong intent in the matter, was discharged by Judge Sullivan and has begun suit against Hodges for false imprisonment.

The girl had been living for several months with the Hodges' as a house servant earning wages; had selected Mr. Hodges as her guardian and declares that she desires not to go with her parents to Chicago, as they wished her to do. What new developments there may be Saturday next cannot, of course, be foreseen.

The case has aroused considerable feeling, but those who talk about it would do well to adhere strictly to what they know are the facts in the case, and put themselves, in thought, in the situation of each actor before passing judgment.

Resolutions of the Woodmen of the World, Columbian Camp, No. 35. Columbus, March 11, 1915. WHEREAS, We learn with deepest sorrow of the death of our esteemed sovereign and ex-Ex-Orator, August Ferdinand Saffran, who departed this life March 8th, 1915, and feeling that his death is a great loss to the Woodmen of the World, we do hereby resolve, that we extend to the bereaved family and friends our heartfelt sympathy in this their time of deepest affliction, that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, these resolutions spread upon a page of our records, a copy sent to the bereaved family and to the Visitor and local city papers for publication. Fraternally, W. A. WAT, E. DEWELLES, Clerk, C. J. GARLOW, Committee.

Whereas, Our esteemed neighbor, A. F. Saffran, has been taken from us, and while we bow in humble submission to the will of the Most High, we none the less mourn for our neighbor who has gone before, a neighbor who was an honored neighbor of our order, a useful citizen, ever ready to assist the needy, his absence will be deeply felt, therefore be it resolved, that we extend to the widow and fatherless children our heartfelt sympathy in this their time of deepest affliction, that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, these resolutions spread upon a page of our records, a copy sent to the bereaved family and to the Visitor and local city papers for publication. Fraternally, W. A. WAT, E. DEWELLES, Clerk, C. J. GARLOW, Committee.

James H. Galley is thoroughly well equipped for the office of mayor. Having been a member of the city council a number of years, he understands all the intricacies of the city's affairs, having made them a study, with the same care that he does of his own individual affairs. He is eminently practical in all measures originated or advocated by him, and works for what he regards the city's best interests without reference to public clamor or necessary considerations of any sort.

The situation impels THE JOURNAL to say that Mr. Galley is a man who will do his duty as he sees it, fully, fearlessly, without favor, but he will not ask you to vote for him. He regards that as a matter resting altogether with you, and it becomes all those who wish to see men of Mr. Galley's kind elected to do what they can besides in convincing their fellow-citizens.

In Mr. Galley's charge the duties of Mayor will be safely, carefully, conscientiously discharged. City Treasurer. Frank Wurdeman, the republican candidate for city treasurer, has been all right in the discharge of the duties of that office, and doubtless will be so again. Your money, every cent of it, has gone just exactly where it was ordered to go, so far as Mr. Wurdeman's part of the transaction was concerned. Frank has a vigor of mind and force of character not found in all young men, and having transacted with perfect fidelity the business of the office for which he has been nominated, he well deserves re-election.

Frank Owen, night clerk at the Meridian hotel, was assaulted Friday morning about 4 o'clock; while dining in his chair, an unknown man, supposed to be a tramp, entered the office, struck Owen over the head, during him. The villain then forced the cash drawer, got $2.00 from it and disappeared. Owen in a short time was able to give the alarm, and thus had his wounds dressed by Dr. Arnold.

It must be a desperate character indeed who would take chances as this man did. Communists may come to adopt the violent opinion of such as to the value of human life, and summarily punish all such that they happen to catch. The man who sets fire to a dwelling-house after dark; the man who enters a dwelling-house for the purpose of committing a crime, as well as he who brutally assaults a person, with an evident intent of murder, each and all mean to kill if necessary to hide their crime, and should be punished accordingly.

Our Candidates. Jacob A. Ernst, the republican nominee for councilman of the First ward, will make one of the best representatives of their interests they have ever had in the councils of the city. Mr. Ernst is one of our very best business men; knows the needs of the city thoroughly; has good, common-sense views of matters; will look to the interests of the entire community, while not neglecting or slighting those of the First ward; is a man who considers well the circumstances of a situation, and acts only after due deliberation. Our city affairs are very important to us, and Mr. Ernst will be a safe councilman.

John E. Hoffman, the candidate for the Second ward, is one of the staunch Republicans of the Second, and deserves well at the hands of the citizens of that ward and of the city. He has a worthy amount of thinking, and he thinks along straight lines. He is a level-headed man, and his record as a former councilman of the city showed him to be a man of admirable judgment in city matters. He is a man who looks beyond his own private interests; allows his thoughts to go towards his neighbors' welfare along with his own, and honestly strives to do what is right for all others as well as for himself. John is all right.

Clinton C. Gray, candidate for the Third ward, is one of the prominent young Republicans of that ward. He is a business man of rare good qualities, and will make a superior councilman. He gives matters in his charge the closest attention and is careful in all things. He has the scientific habit of thought—the gathering of all the facts; generalizing from them to first principles. The true interests of the Third ward (which of course are in unison with those of the city) will find in Mr. Gray a strong advocate, a practical promoter. In any emergency that may arise, you will find him cool, deliberate, sensible, sure, and this is the sort of man you ought to elect as a councilman.

City Clerk. Henry P. Coolidge, the republican candidate for city clerk, will make one of the best clerks the city ever had. He is an excellent penman, understands the city's affairs, having spent most of his life here and raised a large family, and carried on business more or less extensively from the early years of the city till now. He is not only quick in the manipulation of the pen, but he has a head for getting things straight, and would keep a fine record of the doings of the city council, and transmit any other business that might pertain to the office. Mr. Coolidge is thoroughly competent.

Seed For Sale. I have about 500 bushels of white oats crop of 1915. Samples can be seen at 1766 1/2. ALONZO HANCOCK.

Our Fighters. The following from the Blair Pilot, gives such a picture of a country far to the north of us, as we seldom see so clearly portrayed: "Supt. Fowler recently received a letter from his sister, who is now visiting in Scotland, nearly a thousand miles further north than Blair but in the mists of the Gulf stream, in which she states under date of February 25: 'I wish you could peep into the gardens here just now and see the spring flowers. Aunt has a border of yellow crocuses that looks like a band of gold, then purple, lilac and white ones. And the snowdrops are lovely, great clusters of pure white. The yellow narcissus will soon be in full bloom. The gardeners were here on Monday and Tuesday and planted peas, onions and cabbage plants; think of it in February. The grass is green all winter; some kind of shrub bloom all through the cold weather.'"

Madison Chronicle: The attention of the district court was occupied Tuesday and yesterday with a "steer case," that bids fair to become almost as celebrated as the well known Jones county, Iowa, calf case. A steer, said to belong to one of the Buettner's, was taken up by one of the Tenkes' and kept several months. When the Buettner's discovered the animal they replined it and the Tenkes' now bring suit to recover for the value of the animal. The case has gone through the county court and is now taking a whirl in the district court. Both sides are well heeled and stubborn enough to carry the matter up to the court of last resort. It is likely to prove fat picking for the lawyers.

Howells items in Schuyler Herald: On Monday Mrs. Will Post met with a frightful accident. While attending to her duties about the house she took a lighted lamp into a closet in search of some article she wanted. It appears that a can of gasoline was kept there and enough gas had escaped to charge the gas in the closet, and when Mrs. Post entered with the lighted lamp there was a flash of flame and an explosion of gun powder, that was also kept there. The poor woman's dress was set on fire and her face, neck and the back of her hands badly burned. Neighbors hearing the explosion and seeing the smoke rushed in and put out the flames. Mrs. Post is very badly burnt about the face and at first it was feared that she might lose her eye sight, but it is now believed that her sight will be saved. Dr. Buzick was called and did everything possible to make the poor woman comfortable. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery from the effects of the dreadful accident.

Madison Reporter adds some particulars in regard to the Tele-Buettner steer case in the district court for Madison county. It has the largest record of any case in the district except the Barrett Scott case, either civil or criminal, and has been watched with keen interest by the public in general. The steer is now worth, if the costs of the trial are considered, about $1,000. The last trial occupied three days, and the verdict was for Buettner. The case will probably be carried to the supreme court.

Free Step-over at Washington. On all through tickets between the east, west, north and south reading via Baltimore & Ohio Railroad; a stop-over at Washington can be secured without extra charge for railroad fare, by depositing the ticket upon arrival at Washington, with the B. & O. station ticket agent at that point. Washington is always attractive to visitors, and particularly so while Congress is in session. This arrangement for stop-over privilege will doubtless be appreciated by the public, and will bring to the Capital many travelers to view its superb public buildings, monuments, museums and thoroughfares.
